Why cycle in Medway?

Cycling is a fun way to keep healthy and to visit places of interest in Medway.

So if you've recently purchased a Bikeability level 2 training or are about to venture out on your bike for the first time in a while, please use this map to find out where Medway's cycle routes are. There are over 115km (41.5 miles) of cycle routes in Medway, including traffic free routes, on-road routes, off-road routes, or a mixture of all three. They can be used for commuting to work or school, or for leisure cycling. Some routes are suitable for the rural area for instance for example the Heron Trail (Regional Route 18).

Cycling in the rest of Kent

For more information on cycling in the rest of Kent outside Medway, please visit the cycling area of the Explore Kent website.

Alternatively, the Kent Cycle Rescue Service can be contacted on 08458 247 600 or Explorekent@kent.gov.uk

CTC Cyclecover Cycle Rescue

CTC Cyclecover Cycle Rescue is a cycle rescue service, which gives cyclists similar breakdown assurance to motorists.

If you are unable to complete a journey as the result of a breakdown, we will arrange for the breakdown of your cycle (puncures not included) to be collected and taken to your home or to your preferred local cycle shop. Or if alternative accommodation, whichever is nearer.

Visit www.cyclecover.org.uk or call 0151 4279329 for details.

Cycling and the Railways

Why not combine cycling with public transport? You can cycle to and from your local station, park at the station or go on the train with your folding bike.

The majority of stations in Medway have cycle stands and cycle lockers are available at some stations. Please contact staff for information of using these lockers at the specific station.

If you wish to travel on the train with your folding bike, you can do so free of charge during off-peak periods. The train operator reserves the right to refuse travel if the bicycle is not folded or if safety and comfort of passengers may be affected or cause delays to services.

For more information, contact National Rail Enquiries on 08457 484950.

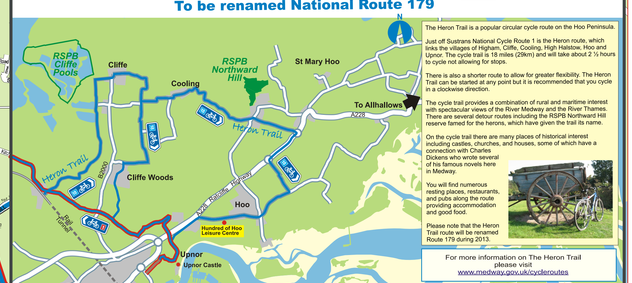
The Hoo Peninsula showing The Heron Trail

(Sustrans Regional Route 18)

To be renamed National Route 179



The Heron Trail is a popular circular cycle route on the Hoo Peninsula.

Just off Sustrans National Cycle Route 1 is the Heron route, which links the villages of Higham, Cliffe, Cooling, High Halstow, Hoo and Upnor. The cycle trail is 18 miles (29km) and will take about 2 ½ hours to cycle not allowing for stops.

There is also a shorter route to allow for greater flexibility. The Heron Trail can be started at any point but it is recommended that you cycle in a clockwise direction.

The cycle trail provides a combination of rural and maritime interest with spectacular views of the River Medway and the River Thames. There are several detour routes including the RSPB Northward Hill reserve famed for the herons, which have given the trail its name.

On the cycle trail there are many places of historical interest including castles, churches, and houses, some of which have a connection with Charles Dickens who wrote several of his famous novels here in Medway.

You will find numerous resting places, restaurants, and pubs along the route providing accommodation and good food.

Please note that the Heron Trail route will be renamed Route 179 during 2013.

For more information on The Heron Trail please visit www.medway.gov.uk/cycleroutes

Better by bike

A cycle planner developed by Transport Direct now shows Medway's cycle routes. Visit www.transportdirect.info and click on 'Find a Cycle Route' to find out how you can travel by bike around Medway. This is a Department for Transport funded project.

Use the cycle journey planner to plan routes to commute to work, visit friends or simply get fit and lose weight, explore the countryside and visit new places.

This free and easy to use website can plan the quickest, quietest or even the most recreational cycle route. It will give you detailed route directions, a map and a visual representation of the steepness of the route.

Transport Direct worked with Cycling England, Ordnance Survey and Medway Council to ensure that there is good quality information on cycling in Medway. All of Medway's urban areas have been surveyed together with the Heron Trail on the Hoo Peninsula.

Nationally, the Cycle Journey Planner is being rolled out to more of the country including most of Kent. www.transportdirect.info also has information on other journeys by bus, train, walking or by car.

Riverside Country Park covers 100 hectares alongside the Medway Estuary, including Motney Hill and Berengrave Local Nature Reserve. There are various habitats within the park, including mudflats and saltmarsh, ponds and reed-beds, grassland and and scrub, which provide a haven for wildlife. Over 350,000 visitors a year enjoy the countryside and views across the Medway estuary.

The estuary has special protection as part of the Medway Marshes SSSI (Site of Special Scientific Interest) and is internationally important for wintering birds that thrive on the invertebrate-rich mudflats. The saltmarshes have a specialised ecology and act as high tide roost sites.

Paths and cycle signs have recently been improved which with other measures enabled Riverside Country Park to be given a Green Flag award. There is also a café, a play area, visitor centre and toilets available to visitors.

Bikeability cycle training

Bikeability cycle training is going from strength to strength in Medway. Bikeability is the modern day Cycling Proficiency Test designed to give the next generation the skills and confidence to ride their bikes on the road.

There are three Bikeability levels and Medway Council currently offers levels one and two. Level 1 is basic skills and controlling the bike. Resources and assessment are available to all primary schools and are recommended for pupils aged seven to 11 years.

Level 2 is how to manoeuvre the bike on the road such as turning in and out of junctions, overtaking and how to cycle confidently on the road.

All courses are accredited to meet the requirements of the National Standard to give participants the skills to keep them and other road users safe. For more details on the standards visit www.dft.gov.uk/bikeability

Medway Council was the first local authority in the whole of Kent to adopt this initiative successfully. There are now over 1,600 children a year taking the Level 1 and Level 2 courses.

Bikeability is offered free to all primary schools in Medway for year 5 and 6 children- subject to course availability. A maximum of 12 children can take part in each course which lasts for 5 x 2-hour sessions in the mornings or afternoons. Cycle helmets must be worn on the Bikeability course. For more information Ask at your child's school.

These courses can also be carried out during the school holidays and for other children's organisations (for example Brownies and Cubs, but there maybe a charge for these courses).
Please also visit www.medway.gov.uk/cycling and click on the Bikeability section or email cycling@medway.gov.uk
